

Broadband transmission over unbalanced, unshielded lines will pollute the medium and shortwave spectrum to the point that 1) weak signal communications will be impossible, 2) normal communications will be difficult. It is a physical fact that open lines of the type used in power transmission will radiate energy. They make perfect medium and shortwave antennas.
BPL should not be allowed.